

Releasing Writers Leadership Network

One of the goals of education is not simply to fill students with facts and information but to help them learn how to learn.

- Zaretta Hammond

Meet monthly with job-alike colleagues also implementing thinkSRSD.

Who? Principals, Coaches, ELA coordinators, Designated teacher-leaders.

Dates: Sept 3, Oct 1, Nov 5, Jan 7, Feb 4 & March 4. (Coaches: 8:30-10:00 & Principals: 10:30-11:30. Make ups: 12-1:30)

What You'll Gain

Guidance from experienced leaders who successfully implemented thinkSRSD and saw ELA proficiency rates rise.

See 'Look For's' each month from Network schools that showcase implementation.

Complete a monthly self-assessment to track where you are in relation to the most important implementation success factors such as: connecting Power Cycles to your school curriculum and student learning objectives, standards-based grading or promoting vision in faculty meetings, PLCs and informally.

In small group breakouts, share a success and an area you'd like to further develop, then spend time problem-solving with thinking partners and trade suggestions with colleagues and those who have successfully led Re-leasing Writers roll outs in their schools.
